Editors' Note

First and foremost, we would like to thank all of the students who submitted their research papers for consideration in St. John Fisher College's Undergraduate Review. It is because of student support that this journal is possible. The response was overwhelming, making the decision process very difficult. We would also like to congratulate, once again, those whose papers were chosen for this year's edition.

Students submitted papers from a wide variety of academic disciplines that included Psychology, Biology, Women and Gender Studies, Political Science, English, Philosophy, and Sports' Studies. Topics as diverse as Shakespeare, nutritional health, and memory retention here at St. John Fisher College are discussed in this volume. The depth of research and hard work put into each of these papers will be apparent to every reader of the Undergraduate Review.

We hope that you enjoy each of the selections chosen for this edition. On a personal note, we have thoroughly enjoyed serving as co-editors to this journal. This has been a wonderful experience, and we are honored to have had the opportunity to contribute to this journal of excellence.

Emily Sobilo and Maria Zahid,
Co-editors, 2009
