Letter from the Editor

Dear Reader,

Thank you for your interest in reading this semester's issue of Verbum. Just as Fisher has grown over the years, so has Verbum. It seems that every issue of Verbum brings forth a new variety of essays, poems, research papers and other works.

I would like to extend a special thank you to all the students, faculty and staff who have submitted their personal works for this fall 2010 issue of Verbum. What strikes me about this issue of Verbum is the diverse topics that the readers are exposed to as they progress from cover to cover. From Jewish traditions to Hindu rituals to philosophical topics like love and original sin, this semester's issue of Verbum exceeds expectations.

The publication of Verbum would not be possible without the support and assistance of review boards, compilers/editors and the REST Club's academic advisor, Dr. Michael Costanzo. The unending dedication of Fr. Costanzo to Verbum and the REST Club has kept it alive and growing. I would also like to thank the Office of Multicultural Affairs & Diversity, the Student Government Association and the countless other individuals and organizations who have donated prizes for each submission category.

I encourage you, as a reader, to submit a work for publication in a future issue of Verbum. We would love to include a writing of yours in the spring 2011 issue.

Respectfully,

Christina M. Regelsberger
REST Club President
Editor of Verbum
