Kathryn Kelly '21, winner of this year's Provost Award for Best Paper, is a senior English and Inclusive Adolescent Education double major with a minor in American Studies. She will be pursuing graduate studies this fall to further her future career as an English teacher. As part of the Summer Fellows Research program at Fisher, she completed this paper under the mentorship of Dr. Deborah Uman, who served a crucial role in guiding her studies and encouraging her to submit her work to The Review. She hopes that readers will consider the ideas outlined in her paper and implement them in their own classrooms!

Julia Cosner '20 is a St. John Fisher Fall 2020 Wegman's School of Nursing graduate from Rochester, NY. She participated in the college's Undergraduate Summer Research Program and Nursing Honors program performing secondary qualitative data analysis with Dr. Sarah Miner and co-authoring this literature review. She was a First-Generation Scholar and member of the First-Generation Executive Board. Her volunteerism as a scholar and undergraduate Community Health research solidified her passion in identifying the social determinants of health in communities. She hopes to see her nursing career evolve into the Public Health field so she can contribute equitable health education and resources.

Natalie Petruzelli '22 is a junior majoring in Mathematics and minoring in Economics and Computer Science at St. John Fisher College. On campus, she is a member of the Honors Program and the SGA Senate. She is also the president of Math Club and the assistant to the Department of Mathematics and Computing Sciences. She is interested in pursuing research and has previously worked as a research fellow at both St. John Fisher College and the Mathematical Biosciences Institute at The Ohio State University. In the future, she hopes to attend graduate school.

Madison Weber '23 is a sophomore at Fisher. She is earning her BS in Nursing with a minor in Spanish for Healthcare Professionals, and is a member of the Honors Program. She plans to go on from Fisher to become a midwife and provide safe and accessible health care to those who need it. She thanks her family for their constant encouragement in all of her endeavours. In her free time, she enjoys writing, working at the hospital, spending time with her dogs, being with her sister, and listening to music. Madison loves the study of women and the powerful and dynamic roles they play in society.

Theresa VanWormer '23 is a sophomore at St. John Fisher College. She is an English major with a double minor in Marketing and Communications. She is an aspiring copy editor and writer, an editor for Fisher's creative writing magazine ANGLES, a peer mentor, and a second year writing tutor. "Understanding the Importance of Statues: Symbols of Racism in Modern Society" is VanWormer's first publication.

Emma Cottrell '22 is a junior Psychology major at St. John Fisher College with minors in Biology and Chemistry, and a member of the Honors Program. Her long term goal is to become a Physician Assistant. Emma was first introduced to the field of psychology in high school when taking an introductory psychology class. Her passion for psychology was sparked when learning about the topic of mental illness and health. She hopes to take what she has learned from her time at St. John Fisher College and apply the knowledge she has gained about mental illnesses to her work as a Physician Assistant.

Elizabeth Moon '20 is a 2020 St. John Fisher College Nursing graduate. She now works at Strong Memorial Hospital on the heart failure and heart transplant floor. Elizabeth transferred into Fisher during her junior year from Monroe Community College. Prior to Fisher, Elizabeth was a part of the Phi Theta Kappa honors society. During her last two years, she participated in SJFC's Summer 2020 Research Fellowship, Teddi 39, and the Fisher Peer Support Team. Currently, Elizabeth is working towards her goal of international medical outreach with the additional goal of earning her masters and becoming a nurse practitioner.
