Indescribable

Indescribable

His magnificent hand stretches an infinite Cosmic Curtain.

A Mosaic of comets, planets, stars, black holes, asteroids and galaxies make up His vast Universe

Billions of stars in a galaxy; billions of galaxies in the universe—all resting in His palm

He swirled the galaxies into their intoxicating form with a finger

He peers through ferocious gamma-ray goggles

He exists outside of time—
light years fail to measure His unending wisdom.

His star-breath illuminates our day and night

The moon reflects a fraction of His unmatched radiance

His love travels time & space, burrowing into our hardened hearts

Our blue speck suspended, the perfect distance from His warm affection

Ten thousand words from every human language could not fully capture Him

Only one comes close:
indescribable
