Come Flop With Me

Bernard Ballou

St. John Fisher College

How has open access to Fisher Digital Publications benefited you?

Follow this and additional works at: http://fisherpub.sjfc.edu/angle

Part of the Creative Writing Commons

Recommended Citation

Available at: http://fisherpub.sjfc.edu/angle/vol1972/iss1/32

This document is posted at http://fisherpub.sjfc.edu/angle/vol1972/iss1/32 and is brought to you for free and open access by Fisher Digital Publications at St. John Fisher College. For more information, please contact fisherpub@sjfc.edu.
Come Flop With Me

Cover Page Footnote
Appeared in the issue: 1972.

This poem is available in The Angle: http://fisherpub.sjfc.edu/angle/vol1972/iss1/32
"AND UPON THIS ROCK"

Soundproof ceilings slam the lid over the bonnets
And potted palms line the plush spun grass
Where the multitude stands between the halos
And behold! An empty basket is passed, the wall eats its fill and up it goes
High as a pointy headed steeple tower. Till you can’t walk on the clouds without getting crosses between your toes.
No more altar rails. But nobody rails.
Hey, why is a pew bigger than a flower?

"COME FLOP WITH ME"

Ain’t there a way out, Maudie?
Groves and arbors hum with creation.
Massive and slithery are the stuff-producers, reeking with Kerosene — nine second to sterility and counting. Nothing counts but all, Maudie, and on all counts were the master’s user.
How come you don’t eat your orange pulp — just the rind? Eat your heart out while you’re at it, Maudie, and toss me the sponge.
I’ll throw it in for two of us, doubt. And I won’t be jingling down the front steps, and you won’t be swishing by potted palms.
But a potted plam is a lush sinner, and hell Maudie, we got us (without the “we”) and gee, when I pay Sammy’s alms next year. For once I’ll claim the “all”
So have a ball, Maudie, you look great. I’ll see ya after the kids eat dinner.

B. Ballou