

The Angle

Volume 1981 | Issue 1

Article 16

1981

May Our Friendship...

William Henry Jr.
St. John Fisher College

Follow this and additional works at: <https://fisherpub.sjfc.edu/angle>

Part of the Creative Writing Commons

How has open access to Fisher Digital Publications benefited you?

Recommended Citation

Henry, William Jr. (1981) "May Our Friendship...," The Angle: Vol. 1981 : Iss. 1 , Article 16.
Available at: <https://fisherpub.sjfc.edu/angle/vol1981/iss1/16>

This document is posted at <https://fisherpub.sjfc.edu/angle/vol1981/iss1/16> and is brought to you for free and open access by Fisher Digital Publications at St. John Fisher College. For more information, please contact fisherpub@sjfc.edu.

May Our Friendship...

Cover Page Footnote

Appeared in the issue: 1981.

*May our friendship
always know a tender bondage,
that is forever kind in thought.*

WILLIAM HENRY, Jr.

Lonely Image

*I saw you through my own eyes
Where you stood watching the early morning garden
Where the flowers were so amiable and youthful
The precious creatures of yours.*

*You stood there long
Wind was chasing around
Your creatures orderly kneeled and then rose
You folded your hands
Your hair was neatly up*

You were still.

*I see you through my own mind
Where you stand watching the early morning garden
Where the ground is covered with flower petals
The lifeless creatures of yours.*

*You stand there
Wind was pushing around
Your creatures tumultuously blow and then fall
You open your hands to catch
Your hair is tangling in the wind*

You are busy.

N.H.