A Letter from the Editor

Abstract

In lieu of an abstract, below is the essay's first paragraph.

"Over the past two years, I have acted as editor of St. John Fisher's literary magazine, The Angle. I can honestly say that it has been one of the greatest learning experiences of my life. I would like to thank Dr. Nicolay especially for giving me this position and the opportunity to run this magazine. Because we were both new, it has taken quite a bit of time to get used to dealing with the bureaucracy involved in constructing an issue of a magazine. In the beginning, we did not even know who was funding our endeavor; now we have become active members in the Media Funding Board and are helping to create an advisory board. Because of our "newness," The Angle has not been done on our scheduled time for the past two years. In both instances there were extenuating circumstances that were out of our control. I would like to take this time to formally apologize to all of the students who had their works published in this magazine and were waiting and waiting. It has been a struggle; but, I believe that in the two issues that I have helped to publish, the end result was worth the wait."

Over the past two years, I have acted as editor of St. John Fisher's literary magazine, The Angle. I can honestly say that it has been one of the greatest learning experiences of my life. I would like to thank Dr. Nicolay especially for giving me this position and the opportunity to run this magazine. Because we were both new, it has taken quite a bit of time to get used to dealing with the bureaucracy involved in constructing an issue of a magazine. In the beginning, we did not even know who was funding our endeavor; now we have become active members in the Media Funding Board and are helping to create an advisory board. Because of our "newness," The Angle has not been done on our scheduled time for the past two years. In both instances there were extenuating circumstances that were out of our control. I would like to take this time to formally apologize to all of the students who had their works published in this magazine and were waiting and waiting. It has been a struggle; but, I believe that in the two issues that I have helped to publish, the end result was worth the wait.

I would also like to thank Dr. McGinnis and the rest of the Media Funding Board for their patience and their help in building up our organization. A special thanks to Dr. McGinnis, though, for helping us to purchase a computer and providing all of the necessary information. I would like to thank the English department for their continued support. I appreciate the feedback you give to me and the submission due date announcements that you provide for your students during class time.

Lastly, I would like to thank the students that continue to submit their works to The Angle. Without you, we could not do something like this and provide a forum unlike any other on the Fisher campus. Hopefully, within the next few years, The Angle will be able to publish more than one issue per year. I hope that a great number of you continue to submit your works; I also encourage more students to join our staff. I have made a lot of great friends and had a lot of great experiences through my work on this magazine. I hope you enjoy this issue and keep writing!!
