My pencil has scratched the surface of the page, tracing a valley like an artist.
April showers
in the rain forest.
I have wrote and sung,
like a professional singer.
I am running into impossibilitiesveggie lo mein, chicken, pomegranateusually in September, now, in October.
The jades and magentas
of my creativity
have dried like a desert.
I'm running from the rotten apples squatting on the forest floor and trembling, I scurry to reach the April blue valley bottled in the ocean
while the sky lamp scorns its light
on me.
