Editors' Note

We would like to first and foremost thank all of the students who submitted their research papers for contribution to the St. John Fisher Undergraduate Review. The response was overwhelming and it made the decision process difficult. We would also like to congratulate once again those whose papers were chosen.

Students submitted papers from a wide array of academic disciplines, including but not limited to psychology, religious studies, and mathematics, and topics as diverse as the motion of paper helicopters, mental health parity, and on-line advertising are discussed in this volume. The depth of research and hard work put into each of these papers will surely be evident to any reader of the Undergraduate Review.

Please enjoy each of the selections that have been chosen for this edition. And finally, on a personal note, we would like to add that serving as co-editors to this journal has been a wonderful experience. We are honored to have had the opportunity to contribute to this journal of excellence.
