May 2011

for my wife …

Thomas J. Jewel
St. John Fisher College

How has open access to Fisher Digital Publications benefited you?

Follow this and additional works at: http://fisherpub.sjfc.edu/verbum

Part of the Religion Commons

Recommended Citation
Jewel, Thomas J. (2011) "for my wife …," Verbum: Vol. 8: Iss. 2, Article 5.
Available at: http://fisherpub.sjfc.edu/verbum/vol8/iss2/5

This document is posted at http://fisherpub.sjfc.edu/verbum/vol8/iss2/5 and is brought to you for free and open access by Fisher Digital Publications at St. John Fisher College. For more information, please contact fisherpub@sjfc.edu.
for my wife …
 for my wife…

I married a saint….

A saint…

Is someone of whom one says,
“i want to be like them.”

Like a role model yet better….
more….

Someone who interferes with your life
and your thinking
but in the best way possible.

Who calls you out of yourself to be more….
…to be holy.

Someone whose intercession on your behalf allows God to overlook your faults and bring you to places never possible on your own.

A saint isn’t perfect….but they’re close.

And it’s that “closeness” you seek…
like a moth drawn to a flame
you want the saint to be ever-near.
Drawn to them with a fascination and a love that lasts a lifetime.

A saint never departs from you but rather stays the course no matter how rough or tough the going gets.
Till death do us part and then some…

That was enough for me….
So I married my saint…

And she gave me an angel.