THE HANG. O V E R

I’ve got this morning liquor’s pinion, punishment of last night’s drinkin’, dumb-drumb-numb feeling, in my walking
Of the rolling level underacath me steady side-walk, and striding
In my ecstasy! then off, off forth on swing,
As a skate’s heel sweeps smooth on a bow-bend: the hurl and gliding
Rebuffed by the big wind. My head in hiding Stirred by the ache, — the mischieve of, the misery of the thing!

Brute pain and weakness and stupid, oh, air, air, blow, here
Cool! AND the fire that breaks from me then, a billion Times told hotter, more dangerous, O! my head hurts!

No wonder of it: manhattanas, martinis — I had a score
Of them, and vodka-collins, too, ah my dear,
Fall, gall myself, and out to get some more!
