1983

There's An Old, Crocheted Mitten In The Yard...

Lisa M. Zenzen
St. John Fisher College

Recommended Citation
Available at: http://fisherpub.sjfc.edu/angle/vol1983/iss1/21

How has open access to Fisher Digital Publications benefited you?
Follow this and additional works at: http://fisherpub.sjfc.edu/angle
Part of the Creative Writing Commons

This document is posted at http://fisherpub.sjfc.edu/angle/vol1983/iss1/21 and is brought to you for free and open access by Fisher Digital Publications at St. John Fisher College. For more information, please contact fisherpub@sjfc.edu.
There's An Old, Crocheted Mitten In The Yard...

This poem is available in The Angle: http://fisherpub.sjfc.edu/angle/vol1983/iss1/21
There's an old, crocheted mitten in the yard,
maybe the one that was lost on the way into the house, the mitten that clutched tightly the hand-made valentine's card for mom and dad
many spring rains ago.

The muddy jump rope, caked with dirtied memories, an old scrap of rug out in the fields where fire scorched the weeds and the walks in the sunset.

Tears melting down the pain of glass,
the earth breathes
and sighs
and cries

In the puddle,
the mary poppins painting melting in the rain

A mirror now of the rose from my father's grave in my hand and the rainy teardrops
and the constant pelting on my heart

lisa m. zenzen