The Angle

Volume 1997 | Issue 1

1996

Awakening

MaryAnn DiGravio
St. John Fisher College

Follow this and additional works at: https://fisherpub.sjfc.edu/angle

Part of the Creative Writing Commons

How has open access to Fisher Digital Publications benefited you?

Recommended Citation

Available at: https://fisherpub.sjfc.edu/angle/vol1997/iss1/2

This document is posted at https://fisherpub.sjfc.edu/angle/vol1997/iss1/2 and is brought to you for free and open access by Fisher Digital Publications at St. John Fisher College. For more information, please contact fisherpub@sjfc.edu.
Awakening

Cover Page Footnote
Appeared in the issue: Fall 1996.

This poem is available in The Angle: https://fisherpub.sjfc.edu/angle/vol1997/iss1/2
Awakening
MaryAnn DiGravio

The sun shines brighter before a big storm.
I could hear thunder and see lightning on the way.
If I could, I would move to a place that is always warm.

You always said I was outside of the norm.
I wanted to leave, but you always wanted me to stay.
The sun shines brighter before a big storm.

When we were young, I always wanted you to reform,
But you always just wanted to have fun and play.
If I could, I would move to a place that is always warm.

I was scared the night you left me alone in the dorm.
Your friends called and I told them you went away.
The sun shines brighter before a big storm.

When I was on stage again, I could not perform.
I finally worked up the courage to leave you, Hooray.
If I could, I would move to a place that is always warm.

I vowed I would never ever again conform.
Even if it caused a man to stray.
The sun shines brighter before a big storm.
If I could, I would move to a place that is always warm.