

2001

Red to Blue

Destini _
St. John Fisher College

How has open access to Fisher Digital Publications benefited you?

Follow this and additional works at: <http://fisherpub.sjfc.edu/angle>

 Part of the Creative Writing Commons

Recommended Citation

_ , Destini (2001) "Red to Blue," The Angle: Vol. 2002: Iss. 1, Article 21.
Available at: <http://fisherpub.sjfc.edu/angle/vol2002/iss1/21>

This document is posted at <http://fisherpub.sjfc.edu/angle/vol2002/iss1/21> and is brought to you for free and open access by Fisher Digital Publications at St. John Fisher College. For more information, please contact fisherpub@sjfc.edu.

Red to Blue

Cover Page Footnote

Appeared in the issue: Volume 2, Issue 1, 2001.

DESTINI

RED TO BLUE

I wonder where you are
What you're doing and if you thought of me
So I opened the region of my mind that I keep you in
Bit my nails down to the skin
Thinking I might find some comfort in pleasing you
But the red faded to blue

When I think of you I'm only confused
When I'm with you I only get more battered and bruised
So I'm sorry I ever let myself have you

"Inspiration" I think
How can it be that easy?
To be inspired is only part of what it takes to be me
I try to write so persuasively and passionately
But where does that leave me?
Inspired, tired and frustrated with my inability to be free to write it down
The locks on my thoughts are more like a sheer white gown
Hiding but tempting the formentioned mound
And I know the release won't be done with ease
A persistent drip turns to a flood if too quickly released
But if ceased?
It's sure to flow over the top
It never really stopped
It was just—
Building . . .
Growing . . .
Waiting . . .
Wanting . . .
To be a steady stream that screams the love and hate of red and blue

But still whispers . . .
I'm sorry I ever let myself have you