Do you know what it's like To be fully absorbed-- A crushing, pale grievance forever in your head.
My my my,
We rode these chariots of fire, of fortune until the wheels pulled off and we dropped into the dirt. And still Firmly stood our ground.
And even the grass bowed before us;
it moved and splashed across my feet.
Surrounded has never sounded so much like surrender and passion never felt so much like guilt.
You, forgotten sons, should have slept this night in your beds, instead of receiving this vengeance (that chance and circumstance have made your own)
In our last days
Be calm.
Let truth bear the weight of our symbiosis Let falsehood return from whence it came.
Know that righteousness has always belonged to the righteous,
And let the only consequence of our sincerity be declarations of our undying love.
This is my war
And I have made it your own.
So tonight I ask you rest your heads and tomorrow we will reap the rewards of our faith—and our undoing.
I beg you trust me this once Let no doubt cloud your mind:

Together we will face the brightest light and stand again
In paradise.

Subtle, Subservient, and Stimulated

Snow has painted you A pure vision of everything you are not Subtle, Subservient, and Stimulated.
You left me cold and alone
With a single handwritten letter as your defense.
I sat in a parking lot waiting For a kiss that would never come.
The construction crew started mending
The heart you had shattered, pouring Concrete into a mold, closing Off every vein and artery Emotionless, drained
I listened to the "Brilliant Dance" play
And watched the snow drown your memory, away.
